MAN TRIES TO KILL WIFE BY USE OF RAZOR

Two Police Take Chance of Being Cut While Arresting John Smith.

John Smith of E. Ohio-st., is being held in the city jail following act of cutting his wife, Lovina Smith, with a razor and attempting to do the same thing to Chief of Police W. H. Warner and Officer William McCrady when they attempted to arrest him in Clinton-st. near Weldon Alley shortly after 9 a. m. Friday.

THREATENED POLICE
Smith, when placed under arrest by the officers, put up a strong resistance and with a razor held in right hand defied the law to place hands on him. McCrady grabbed him and Warner held the arm which held the weapon. Smith, even then fought, and McCrady placed his revolver against his back before he would quit fighting.

Mrs. Smith says her husband left the house early Friday morning and obtained a quantity of whiskey which he brought home and drank. She said he became intoxicated enough that he threatened to kill her. She says he hit her forehead with a broom-stick while she was holding a baby belonging to her daughter, and when she attempted to leave the house, he obtained two razors and cut her once on the back of the head before she could escape.

TWO CRIMINAL CASES BEFORE JUDGE ADKINS

Case Against Wesley Trego and Ernest Gill to Be Heard Starting Monday.

Two important criminal cases will be heard before Common Pleas Judge Joseph W. Adkins beginning Monday when the cases against Wesley Trego, of Commercial Point, and Ernest Gill, colored, of Columbus, are scheduled for airing.

The case of the State against Trego has been assigned for Monday and Tuesday with Sterling M. Lamb being appointed by the court to be attorney for the defendant.

CHARGE THEFT
The charge against Trego was filed by Deputy Sheriff John G. Ward following Trego's arrest at the home of Edgar Davidson, Scioto-twp., at the same time that Davidson was arrested on a liquor violation charge. Ward charged that Trego with Roy Miller, drove up to the Davidson house at the time of a raid, with an automobile full of chickens, which it turned out belonged to Frank Hudson, well known county farmer.

Trego is alleged to have said that the chickens were to have been traded to Davidson for liquor. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of theft and was freed under bond. Deputy Ward Friday served subpoenas to four witnesses called by the defendant.

The case of the State against Gill has been set down for Wednesday and Thursday next week with Max Seyfert representing Gill.

Gill with another colored man named Cole, were arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Porter and Fissell on a Saturday night in N. Court-st. after they were alleged to have stolen a $5 bill from Mrs. William Lindsey in a filling station on the Columbus-pk near the Franklin-co line.

Just After Blow That Won For Schmeling

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, June 13.—Max Schmeling, the German, is the accepted and acclaimed champion of all the heavyweights today, the lineal heir to the purple of that royal dynasty that has carried down through the corridors of time from Sullivan, the brash to Tunney, the dilettante. The German is an affable champion. He also is a genteel, a gracious and an urbane champion, but he neither is a great nor, I fear, a good one.

HONORS GONE
He was getting his sleek, young ears punched off last night by Jack Sharkey, the American contender, when the latter dropped a low left hook into the "verboten" territory of the groin just at the climax of the fourth round—and "puff" went decision, glory, honor and the championship. It was a stunning denouncement to what had been a consistently winning fight by Sharkey and a great crowd of 70,000, a typical, old time roistering crowd of the Rickard era, sat in mute amazement while managers and seconds milled around with great hysteria before the official verdict was brought in.

It wasn't brought in by the referee, Jim Crowley. It is doubtful whether he even came in behind it. The verdict of foul was rendered on the opinion of one of the judges.

Harold Barnes, who "sat under" the punch and thus in a position to speak his mind.

Few were so seated that they could see the blow that curled Schmeling in a heap by the ropes and left him grimacing the death throes of the fallen gladiator, famed in clay and in marble. Those who did see it were unanimous in declaring that it was a low punch, a hard punch and that it hurt. By this time, they doubtless have decided that they were a better judge of the latter than Herr Schmeling.

FIRST GERMAN
In consequence, the multi-million dollar championship passes into the custody of a new owner. It really doesn't matter that the latter is the first German to win the title and that he is the first foreign-born heavyweight since Fitzsimmons to withdraw this rich prize from American circulation. The really significant fact is that Schmeling is the first champion to gain the heavyweight title by default, by a miscalculation, by a breach of the playing rules and, to be specific, almost by request.

He was a thoroughly beaten man. He hadn't won a round. He was teetering on his heels in the third under the swift, unerring impact of right hands to the head and body. He obviously wasn't destined to long sustain the attack

DRUMMERS TO ATTEND MEET

Convention In Cincinnati In August To Attract Local Drum Corps.

All the members of the American Legion drum corps decided at their regular meeting Wednesday to attend the state convention at Cincinnati to be held in August.

The matter has not yet been taken up with the rest of the American Legion but it is expected the project will go through. The trip would be of vast benefit to drum corps for they would learn almost as much at this convention where many other drum corps will be in attendance as though they had practiced for several weeks.

The local boys will go to Cincinnati and will enter the dress parade.

It is hoped that The Herald will be able to announce the correct number within the next few days.

SOLONS BLOCK NEW GAS RATE

Mt. Sterling Council Rejects Proposal of Increase By Ohio Fuel Co.

Mt. Sterling village council acted quickly and decisively at a meeting this week when it laid aside a new ordinance drawn by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., seeking to raise the rate in that village to 60 cents net and substituted the old rate ordinance of 50 cents net.

The council deliberated extensively over the ordinance and did not make its decision until every detail has been looked into.

The gas company may appeal the ruling of the village council to the Public Utilities Commission in Columbus, however that may be, the council's action is in the interest of the gas-consumers of the community.

BETTER TIMES ARE PROMISED INSIDE MONTH

Sent To House With Approval Certain—Hoover's Signature Also Sure.

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The Republican party's new billion dollar tariff bill which sets a new and higher protective tariff for industry and agriculture passed the senate this afternoon with administration leaders promising better times within the next 30 days.

The measure was immediately sent to the House where its passage is assured and will be sent to the White House. It is certain that the bill will become a law before the end of next week.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The second of President Hoover's major campaign pledges nearest fulfillment today with both House and Senate about to enact the administration's billion-dollar tariff bill after 16 months of bitter warfare.

REPORT AT 2
A battle-weary senate, despite the superstitious portent of "The day the Thirteenth," will adopt the bill's final conference report at 2 o'clock by the close margin of two votes. It will be sent at once to the House, where prompt and certain approval will follow tomorrow. The bill will then go to President for his signature and likely to become a law by Thursday.

The Senate's vote was secured despite a threatened but by Pennsylvania's two high protectionist senators, will be approximately 41 in favor of the bill, with others paired and evenly divided for and against the bill. In the House, the vote will be more favorable.

In the closing debate, the bill was commended by its friends as defending American industry, labor and agriculture against cheap foreign competition as an insurance prosperity.

It was assailed by its foes as doubling the cost of living, leaving heavy tax burdens upon farmers and as building up a tariff embargo against the rest of the world, certain to incur enmity abroad.

TO BRING MILLIONS
The bill will levy something close to $1,000,000,000 in tariff duties, if the import trade continues. Actually, it may bring in as low as $600,000,000 in revenue. Its cost charged it would add $3,000,000,000 to the cost of living by inflating the prices on thousands of staple articles.

In spite of all the Democratic attacks on the measure, the bill will pass the senate only because of Democratic support. Five Democratic senators—Broussard, Randall, Fletcher, Trammell and Kendrick—will vote for it, giving the administration its majority. In truth, a large number of Democrats will be glad to see the bill enacted, since their states will profit from many of the increased duties. Only the insurgents held a deadly opposition.

One of the bill's outstanding features were the wholesale increases in duties upon agricultural products, although the insurgents charged most of these rates would have no effect since there are surpluses in the protected products.

The two men said they were enroute to Portsmouth. One of the men, at the time of his arrest was suffering from a deep cut under his arm which had been inflicted only a few weeks before his arrest here.

SNATCHED BILL

Mrs. Lindsey charged that the two men drove up in front of the filling station and after "loafing" there for a short time one of them snatched a $5 bill from her hand and fled.

They were arrested by the deputies when their Hudson sedan was forced into the curb.

Petit jurors have been called to report at the clerk of court's office at 9 a. m. Monday.

Just After Blow That Won For Schmeling

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, June 13 — Max Schmeling, the German, is the accepted and acclaimed champion of all the heavyweights today, the lineal heir to the purple of that royal dynasty that has carried down through the corridors of time from Sullivan, the brash to Tunney, the dilettante. The German is an affable champion. He even is a genteel, a gracious and an urbane champion, but he neither is a great nor, I fear, a good one.

HONORS GONE

He was getting his sleek, young ears punched off last night by Jack Sharkey, the American contender, when the latter dropped a low left hook into the "verboten" territory of the groin just at the climax of the fourth round—and—pouf! went decision, glory, honor and the championship. It was a stunning denouncement to what had been a consistently winning fight by Sharkey and a great crowd of 70,000, a typical, old time roistering crowd of the Rickard era, sat in mute amazement while managers and seconds milled around with great hysteria before the official verdict was brought in.

It wasn't brought in by the referee, Jim Crowley. It is doubtful whether he even came in behind it. The verdict of foul was rendered on the opinion of one of the judges.

Harold Barnes, who "sat under" the punch and thus in a position to speak his mind.

Few were so seated that they could see the blow that curled Schmeling in a heap by the ropes and left him grimacing the death throes of the fallen gladiator, famed in clay and in marble. Those who did see it were unanimous in declaring that it was a low punch, a hard punch and that it hurt. By this time, they doubtless have decided that they were a better judge of the latter than Herr Schmeling.

FIRST GERMAN

In consequence, the multi-million dollar championship passes into the custody of a new owner. It really doesn't matter that the latter is the first German to win the title and that he is the first foreign-born heavyweight since Fitzsimmons to withdraw this rich prize from American circulation. The really significant fact is that Schmeling is the first champion to gain the heavyweight title by default, by a miscalculation, by a breach of the playing rules and, to be specific, almost by bequest.

He was a thoroughly beaten man. He hadn't won a round. He was teetering on his heels in the third under the swift, unerring impact of right hands to the head and body. He obviously wasn't destined to long sustain the attack that had beaten down his defenses almost from the opening bell, then, the anti-climax, so reminiscent of Sharkey's last fight with Scott at Miami but so different in its results to Sharkey.

Did I say so different? I mean disastrous. He loses the great prize he has cherished and wooed these four years, he loses money—heaps, gobs, scads and oodles of it. He may even stand to lose nearly all of his estimated purse of $170,000 from last night's fight. They have a rule here, written into the code as the result of the Scott-Von Porat foul last winter, that the illegal puncher not only loses his fight but is to be paid only for the number of rounds in which he indulges before being ruled off.

MAY CUT CHECK

If this rule is upheld, Sharkey will be paid four-fifths of his purse or, roughly speaking, $11,333. As a matter of fact, no speech could be rougher, from Sharkey's standpoint. However, Chairman Farley of the boxing commission has declared the contracts of the fighters makes provisions for full purses in the event of a foul.

Anyhow, that one career punch in the midst of a cool, calculated assault was a monumental luxury, greater even than Snodgrass' miff of Merkle's contempt for second

BETTER TIMES ARE PROMISED INSIDE MONTH

Sent To House With Approval Certain—Hoover's Signature Also Sure.

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13 — The Republican party's new billion dollar tariff bill which sets a new and higher protective tariff for industry and agriculture passed the senate this afternoon with administration leaders promising better times within the next 30 days.

The measure was immediately sent to the House where its passage is assured and will be sent to the White House. It is certain that the bill will become a law before the end of next week.

WASHINGTON, June 13—The second of President Hoover's major campaign pledges neared fulfillment today with both House and Senate about to enact the administration's billion-dollar tariff bill after 16 months of bitter warfare.

REPORT AT 2

A battle-weary senate, denying the superstitious portent of "Friday the Thirteenth," will adopt the bill's final conference report at 2 o'clock by the close margin of two votes. It will be sent at once to the House, where prompt and certain approval will follow tomorrow. The bill will then go to the President for his signature and is likely to become a law by next Thursday.

The Senate vote, never in doubt despite a threatened bolt by Pennsylvania's two high protectionist senators, will be approximately 43 to 41 in favor of the bill, with 12 others paired and evenly divided for and against the bill. In the House, the vote will be more favorable.

In the closing debate, the bill was commended by its friends as defending American industry, labor and agriculture against cheap foreign competition as insuring prosperity.

It was assailed by its foes as doubling the cost of living, levying heavy tax burdens upon farmers and as building up a tariff embargo against the rest of the world, certain to incur enmity abroad.

TO BRING MILLIONS

The bill will levy something close to $1,000,000,000 in tariff duties, if the import trade continues. Actually, it may bring in as low as $600,000,000 in revenue. Its fees charged it would add $3,000,000,000 to the cost of living by inflating the prices on thousands of staple articles.

In spite of all the Democratic attacks on the measures, the bill will pass the senate only because of Democratic support. Five Democratic senators—Broussard, Ransdell, Fletcher, Trammell and Kendrick—will vote for it, giving the administration its majority. In truth, a large number of Democrats will be glad to see the bill enacted, since their states will profit from many of the increased duties. Only the insurgents held a deadly opposition.

One of the bill's outstanding features were the wholesale increases in duties upon agricultural products, although the insurgents charged most of these rates would have no effect since there are surpluses in the protected products.

DRUMMERS TO ATTEND MEET

Convention In Cincinnati In August To Attract Local Drum Corps.

All the members of the American Legion drum corps decided at their regular meeting Wednesday to attend the state convention at Cincinnati to be held in August.

The matter has not yet been taken up with the rest of the American Legion but it is expected the project will go through. The trip would be of vast benefit to drum corps for they would learn almost as much at this convention where many other drum corps will be in attendance as though they had practiced for several weeks.

The local boys will go to Cincinnati and will enter the dress parade.

It is hoped that The Herald will be able to announce the correct number within the next few days.

SOLONS BLOCK NEW GAS RATE

Mt. Sterling Council Rejects Proposal of Increase By Ohio Fuel Co.

Mt. Sterling village council acted quickly and decisively at a meeting this week when it laid aside a new ordinance drawn by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., seeking to raise the rate in that village to 60 cents net and substituted the old rate ordinance of 50 cents net.

The council deliberated extensively over the ordinance and did not make its decision until every detail has been looked into.

The gas company may appeal the ruling of the village council to the Public Utilities Commission in Columbus, however that may be, the council's action is in the interest of the gas-consumers of the community.

and all it represented. And like these, it was so highly unnecessary, he was winning the fight. He couldn't keep it won.

Schmeling, fighting better in this round, was charging to the attack near the ropes when Sharkey started to counter-punch him. He clipped the German with a right and then followed with the fateful left. Immediately all was confusion.

The German first lifted high with the punch and then slowly, painfully, he expired for all the world like a toy balloon with a steady leak he doubled up on the floor in apparent agony. Sharkey skipped over to his corner and the knock-down timekeeper began his measured, staccato beat with the mallet. The referee did nothing and with a fast flurry of motions, too. He gesticulated at Schmeling, who paid him no heed at all. He rushed to one judge, he raced toward the other. The mallet-count had reached seven when the bell rang, ending the round.

DRAMA ENACTED

This brought a horde of human debris into the ring and the drama of Miami was enacted all over again. It seemed at first as though the referee was deciding that Schmeling must resume the fight after a minute's rest. By the time he appeared to have reached this thought, the minute in question and several more had winged their way into eternity.

"Don't you come out for the next round," Joe Jacobs shouted menacingly at Schmeling. He as well might have admonished a lifer at Sing Sing. The latter would have had no intention of coming out, either.

Then a new factor seemed to capture Mr. Crowley's vagrant attention. It was the voice of Harold Barnes, official judge, lifted up in oral affirmation of the fact that Schmeling had been fouled. It was enough, Mr. Crowley at last had found a man who not only had seen the punch but was willing to say so and he hastened to declare himself on the verdict before Mr. Barnes might change his mind or his story or both.

Meantime, Sharkey for once was the coolest man in the emergency. He left his corner briefly to have a look at the groveling German on the other side of the ring; then returned and stood grimly observing the general discord. He didn't weep this time, he didn't caper or prance. And when the shot was called against him, he took the blow standing and with head high and eyes front. He had made a careful, fool-proof fight for almost four rounds. Then he made one mistake and, with it, came tumbling down his pitiful, little house of cards—the hopes, the prayers, the ambition of a life time.

USES LEFT

He began the fight with a left-handed attack, scoring lightly in this way for two minutes of the opening round. Herr Schmeling proved what was later to be definitely established through the course of the fight—that his Dempsey weave was an excellent defense against a left hand. Late in the round, Sharkey scored heavily with rights to the head and this carried the round, although Schmeling clipped his beard with the famous right just before the bell. This, by the way, was another surprise. At least five times before the inglorious finish, Max flashed that right flush to the mark without tangible result, indicating rather strongly that it is not the punch it is supposed to be.

He dropped it down on Sharkey's jaw from above to start the second round but the reformed sailor left-handed his way through the first inlute and then came on with a sequence of right crosses to the jaw, doing Max no great good.

The third was all Sharkey, barring Schmeling right hand to the head. In fact, the American crossed and uppercuted so many rights to the German's jaw that Max was back on his heels and plainly in distress as the round wore on. Finally, Jack timed his man perfectly with a right uppercut to the body just before the bell. It was the best punch of the fight and it seemed to declare itself all over the place as the beginning of the inevitable pay-off.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

SIX
reasons why it's wise to choose a "SIX"

- 1. It's Smooth! Chevrolet has a 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine that delivers its power with a smoothness and silence that are impossible with anything less than six cylinders.
- 2. It's Comfortable! Chevrolet offers modern spring suspension, roomy bodies, and a smooth-running six-cylinder engine.
- 3. It's Easy to Drive! Chevrolet provides an extra-easy ball bearing steering mechanism. And six-cylinder flexibility means unusual simplicity of control.
- 4. It's Beautiful! Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. Hence, its style compares favorably with that of costly cars.
- 5. It's Economical! The Chevrolet costs no more for gas—oil—tires—or service. And six-cylinder smoothness holds down costs, by protecting the car from destructive vibration.
- 6. It's Easy to Buy! The G. M. A. C. payment plan, with its easy terms, is available to all Chevrolet buyers. Come in! Confirm all the reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

MELTING ICE AT SOUTH POLE

Dr. Lawrence Gould, geologist of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, has dealt a blow to the popular conception of climate at the south pole. In an interview at Balboa, Canal Zone, he said:

"The climate there was sub-tropical millions of years ago. We found plenty of coal there. The ice is decreasing, suggesting that the climate is getting milder. The whole Antarctic may become sub-tropical again. About 300 miles from the Pole, on top of the mountains, there was considerable melting of ice."

Of course, he went on to say that the return of sub-tropical climate to that region would take thousands or millions of years. That is a little reassuring. But the idea of "melting ice" anywhere down there in Nature's refrigerator is downright disillusioning. After Stefansson told us of the mild climate in the Arctic area we clung to the unwavering chill of the Antarctic as a last hope. There was one place on the globe where no real estate subdivision would ever be opened up and no fashionable resort established. But melting ice sounds like the beginning of the end.

CONTRIBUTED WORK

There has been surprisingly little wage-cutting during this period of industrial slackness. It used to be that business depression was a time of labor troubles and strikes resulting from retrenchment on the part of employers. In the present case, employers generally have tried to carry on as usual, hoping for an early upturn of the market, without even suggesting wage reductions. Many have operated at a loss rather than deprive workmen of a livelihood or invite trouble with them.

Recently a new and interesting phase has appeared. Manufacturers who have occasionally invited concerns from whom they buy parts to "contribute" a part of the order, to keep business running, are likewise beginning to ask their employees to "contribute" labor—for instance, one day out of two weeks. Sometimes, it is said, the men agree, to keep the shops going without a cut in wage rates, in the hope of an early resumption of full time at full pay.

The mere fact that such a suggestion can be made shows a new relationship between capital and labor, far different from the old antagonism. But it is obviously an idea that must not be pushed too far.

SPACE GETS EVEN

In a lecture at University College in England the other day Prof. Albert Einstein, of the theory, sprung a new idea which he said had come to him while he was ill in bed. It hardly seems right to announce such things in the summer season, but here it is:

"If one considers two elements in space, one compares them so far only as regards size. But there is a further element which comes into it that might give the clue, and it is this: You can also compare those two elements in the matter of direction."

"Space will have to be regarded as a primary and matter derived from it as a secondary result. That is to say, space is now having its revenge."

We're just mean enough to hope that space gets indigestion from this diet. Revenge is not as satisfactory in fulfillment as in anticipation. Let space be warned.

PIE

Diet fads come and go, but pie eating goes on forever. A restaurant hostess who has had years of experience in eating places in a big city declares that a tray without pie is rare, indeed.

What kind of pie? Apple all the year around, mince and pumpkin and cherry in season, lemon, butterscotch, chocolate, any kind and every kind. Different persons have their different favorites, but no pie is so unfortunate as to have no eaters, and there are few eaters who never touch pie.

It isn't such a shocking state of affairs as one would think, either. Dieticians declare that a good pie is more wholesome and digestible than a good cake. If it has a fruit filling it isn't such a heavy dessert as cake or pudding. Crusts that are tough and indigestible usually are left on the plate. Crust that is good to eat also has real food value.

All in all, it seems that American faith in pie is justified.

Korean Counting Rods

Rods made of bone were used in teaching computing in Korean schools as late as the end of the Nineteenth century.

A POSSIBLE BASIS FOR THE RUMOR

"WHERE'S EMILY?"

by CAROLYN WELLS

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.
PREPARATIONS are being made for the marriage of lovely Emily Duane to Rodney Sayre, upstanding, young New Englander, at her home, "Knollwood," in exclusive Hilldale Park. Emily is thrilled with the diamond necklace presented to her by Rod.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER III.

EMILY flew across the room to a mirror, and peacocked and proucted about, as she viewed her precious necklace from all angles and in all lights. "How do you like it?" she smiled, leaning over the back of a chair, and letting the chain of stones run over the velvet cushions.

"Perfect!" declared Betty, and Sayre looked at the smiling eyes that held his.

Very dark, Emily's eyes were, almost black, and their white lids, often falling over them, gave her at times the look of a siren. Her face had a natural pallor, and though she carefully tinted it now and then from her compact, yet, her rouge did not hold like the other girls' and much of the time Emily was positively pale.

"Red up, Emily, do," cried Nell. "You look like your own ghost!"

"Lal Singh won't think you're pretty if you're so white!" Pete declared. "Is he coming to rehearsal?"

"The Swami?" Emily tried to speak calmly, and did, too, but a quiver of her eyelids showed her slight embarrassment.

"Yes," said Lamb, seeing a chance to tease; "I was going to tell his Reverence, the Garner, that you had left your fortune to Lal, but I was 'fraid you mightn't want me to."

"Hush your nonsense, Burt!" Sayre shot at him. "Do you s'pose I'm going to let you rag my wife?"

"Your wife?"

"Same as. Anyway, if you say a word she doesn't want you to, I'll—"

"There, there, Roddy, boy," said Emily, standing behind him and putting a hand over his mouth.

Then she tweaked his cheek, wavy hair, or a golden, almost yellow gloss, and announced:

"Gentlemen prefer to be blonds!" Whereupon, Rodney jumped up and went for her.

Very dear she looked, caught in Sayre's arms, her lovely head drooping on his shoulder, and her necklace dangling like a flashing thread of light.

Emily nodded hair was long enough to shake its soft curly sides and close-clipped at the back.

Leaning back against her big, strong lover, she stood, unconcerned, smiling at the others.

"And now," she said, "we must get ready for the rehearsal. Spinks will be here about six, and I have to get into my—"

"Oh, Emily, you're not going to wear your wedding gown at rehearsal!" and Aunt Judy looked really agast.

"No, no, ducky; I've a sort of dummy frock, a make-believe wedding dress, with a long train and veil and all that. I'm going to rehearse in that."

"Going to rehearse in the church?" asked Gibby.

"No, too much trouble. We'll just go through the paces here. You see Spinks—"

"Who is Spinks?" asked Pete.

"Why he's the Funeral Director. You needn't laugh, because he is that, too. He takes full charge of the wedding parade, and you must all do exactly as he says. And obey him, or he'll get awfully mad."

"Perfect!" declared Betty, and Sayre looked at the smiling eyes that held his.

Very dark, Emily's eyes were, almost black, and their white lids, often falling over them, gave her at times the look of a siren.

Her face had a natural pallor, and though she carefully tinted it now and then from her compact, yet, her rouge did not hold like the other girls' and much of the time Emily was positively pale.

"That reminds me, Emily," Lamb put in, "Friend Garner is terribly alarmed for fear you won't say 'obey' in the service—"

"Is he?" said Emily, indifferently, "then to tease him, I think I'll say 'Oh, boy,' I heard of somebody who did—"

"Will the Penningtons be here?" asked Aunt Judy, to turn the subject.

"She made me," returned Pennington, straightforwardly.

"Oh, yes, Pauline is matron of honor. They're coming over for tea, too. Be here any minute."

"Is the Swami coming?" This from Lamb.

"Why, what a churlish speech!" He stared at her, and comprehended.

"Oh," he laughed, "I didn't mean it that way! I mean she was the making of me—of my career. Her sympathy and help—"

"I see—your dearest friend and severest critic—or whatever it is. She's very beautiful, too."

"Yes; if she weren't quite so pretty she'd be the most beautiful woman in the world."

"Does that mean anything?" asked Betty, idly. She was bored with the man, and didn't want to waste any sparkle on him.

"Not to you, I dare say. Are you to be maid of honor?"

"Yes, and Mrs. Pennington is matron of honor. I know we'll do well together."

"Watch your step, then. Polly lips is a marvel when she's in regalia."

"So'm I," returned Betty, "what's she going to wear?"

"Lord, I don't know. Let me see—she should wear, well, nothing short of a complete Car men costume brings out her best points."

"Yes, I can see that. She's a perfect Carmen. That wonderful black hair, those eyes—even the very way her cigarette droops from her lips. Do you care for any other woman, Mr. Pennington?"

"Do we intrude," said Pennington lightly, "Miss Bailey wants to meet a real, live celebrity?"

"Are you really the Mr. Pennington who writes those—those plays that I'm not allowed to go to?" Betty asked of the man who sat beside her.

"I hope so," he returned, with a grave smile. "I mean I hope you're not allowed to go to my plays."

"Why not?" And Betty's round, chubby face registered fine indignation. "Girls nowadays can go to anything evil, see anything evil, hear anything evil—"

"You sound like the Japanese monkeys," Pennington laughed at her. "And don't say 'nowadays' to me! I'm not your uncle."

Jim Pennington was a man of thirty, but to flapper Betty he seemed a generation removed. He was an erratic playwright, some of his work achieving marked success and some falling flat. One of his plays had been suppressed and others ought to have been, but they were not quite popular enough to make it worth while.

He was not distinguished-looking in any way, but his bored, languid air and his soft, drawing voice had an attraction for some women.

He made slight appeal to Betty, however, who liked her men louder and funnier.

"How'd you come to marry your wife?" she said, feeling she ought to startle a playwright.

"She made me," returned Pennington, straightforwardly.

"Oh, yes, Pauline is matron of honor. They're coming over for tea, too. Be here any minute."

"Is the Swami coming?" This from Lamb.

"Epistaxis" Is Rarely Serious

Common Nose Bleed Nothing to Worry About, Says Authority, Unless the Condition Persists.

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health New York City.

"EPISTAXIS" is another name for nose-bleed. Nature shows her great curative powers in every child who has nose-bleed. She merely opens a safety valve to prevent mischief.

The fluid which is lost is almost instantaneously replaced by the body, which draws water from the tissues. Thus it is that persons who have suffered greatly from nose-bleeds have severe thirst. The water must be replaced in the tissues without delay.

Some persons are particularly susceptible to nose-bleeds. In some families there seems to be a hereditary tendency to recurrent attacks. It might come on at any time of day or night. They may be awakened from sleep with a bad bleeding from the nose. It is, however, never a serious condition.

Nasal catarrh is a very common cause of nose bleed. Anæmic children and growing children are especially susceptible to it. Epistaxis is sometimes mistaken for a hemorrhage from the lungs or stomach when the bleeding occurs in the sleep and some of the blood is swallowed. In such a case it is quite natural that the blood should be vomited the next morning. The experience is apt to cause some alarm, especially if the patient is nervous or easily frightened.

Usually the bleeding stops of its own accord. If it should persist there are simple methods which are nearly always successful. One is the application of cold water or ice to the nose and back of the neck. If this does not check it try snuffing up the nose a very small amount of pulverized alum or tannic acid.

Rest is essential. Have the patient lie down or recline in an easy chair with the head thrown back.

In rare cases it is necessary to have the nose plugged in order to stop the bleeding. Your doctor should be consulted in the matter.

When there is an ulcer in the nose it may be necessary to have the ulcerated spot touched with a caustic, but your doctor should do this. Whenever there is recurrent nose-bleeding a doctor should be consulted. He may save you much annoyance and suffering.

Perfection to Come
We rest in faith that man's perfection is the crowning flower, toward which the urgent sap in life's great tree is pressing—seen in world's great morrow to expand.—George Eliot.

Sahara's Oases
Five of the great oases of the Sahara desert were known and occupied by the Egyptians as early as 1600 B. C.

AT THE GRAND
Hoot Gibson comes to the Grand Theatre in "The Long, Long Trail," Universal's high-powered riding, fighting, romantic picture

AT THE CLIFTONA
"Children of Pleasure," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking adaptation of Crane Wilbur's stage success of last season, "The Song Writer," will open Friday at the Cliftona Theatre with a cast which includes Lawrence Grady, Wynne Gibson, Helen Johnson, Benny Rubin, Kenneth Thomson, Lee Kohlman and May Boye. Both Miss Gibson and Miss Johnson who have the featured feminine roles, were imported to Hollywood from the only previous film experience having been in "Nothing But the Truth" while Miss Johnson makes her picture debut in the present vehicle.

Irving Berlin Romance?
Harry Beaumont, remembered for "The Broadway Melody," directed the production from a scenario by Richard Schryer. Rumor is that the story, which depicts the love affair of a New York song writer with a society debutante, was inspired by the actual romance of Irving Berlin. It is said the locale shifts from scenes of metropolitan music-publishing houses, song try-out offices, and vaudeville theatres to lavish replicas of the homes of Long Island millionaires. According to Cedric Giggons, art director, the interiors are the last word in modernistic furnishing and design, incorporating the use of a number of woods and metals seen in pictures for the first time. A further claim for the last word in smartness is made by the M-G-M wardrobe department which asserts that the gowns worn in the production were copied from the newest Paris models.

AT THE METROPOLITAN
Ranking as one of the best dialogue and musical circus dramas ever presented on a local screen, "Swing High," a Pathe talker featuring sixteen all-star stage and screen players headed by Chester Conklin, Ben Turpin, Dorothy Burgess, Helen Twelvetrees, George Fawcett and Fred Scott, was presented with excellent results at the Metropolitan Theatre yesterday.

Aside from the fact that an entire circus, rings, clowns, elephants, etc., which will delight old and young alike, the sixteen stage and screen stars in the cast acquire themselves agreeably. Ben Turpin, as a bartender, and Chester Conklin, as a sheriff, provide numerous laugh. Stepin Fetchit, well known negro comedian, does his quaint stunts with his customary vim, and Bryant Washburn, old time screen star, is a villain to the manor born. Helen Twelvetrees is a wistful heroine, while Fred Scott acts and sings with adequate energy. George Fawcett, John Sheehan, Nick Stuart, Daphne Pollard and the others give splendid portrayals.

"Swing High," which was admirably directed by Joseph Santley under the supervision of E. B. Derr, producer, from a story by Mr. Santley and James Seymour, is high grade screen entertainment and quite worth one's while.

Some corking rodeo scenes are incorporated in the picture. Gibson and the entire company travel hundreds of miles to the big rodeo at Salinas, Cal., and remained there for a week, to insure getting plenty of real rodeo atmosphere. Gibson is an expert on rodeo stuff, having once carried off the all-around championship at the Pendleton Roundup.

Charming and petite Sally Eilers plays opposite Gibson in "The Long, Long Trail." The strong cast includes Kathryn McGuire, James Mason, Archie Ricks, Walter Brennan, and Howard Truesdell.

Out To Stay Out—Roots and All
Magic Oxygen Salts Bath Never Fails.
No More Burning Aching Feet.

No matter how many corns you have or how painful they are—soak your feet for 15 minutes in a delightfully soothing and revitalizing Radox footbath for 3 or 4 nights—then lift corns and callouses right out—roots and all and they won't come back either unless you wear shoes again which aggravate your feet.

No cutting or digging is required because Radox liberates oxygen which softens hard outer layers of corns, each night penetrating the pores further and further, carrying the salts right to roots of corns which are so loosened they can be lifted out bodily.

Your feet are made strong—healthy—vigorous—hard skin on heels and toes goes also.

Hamilton & Ryan and all good drug stores are stocked with Radox—if they aren't insist upon them ordering it if you want to experience great foot-joy and comfort.—Adv't.

LUTHERANS SOCK 6 BINGLES IN ELEVENTH INNING TO WIN FROM WARD'S TEAM, 7 TO 6

Six consecutive solid bingles and a long sacrifice fly in the last half of the eleventh inning won a game for the Lutheran Brotherhood from Doggy Ward's team at Utilities field Thursday evening. The score of the contest was 7-6 and the game was one of the most exciting played this season. Everything was nip and tuck from start to finish with the Wardmen trying to protect a four run lead which they had starting the seventh inning.

The eleventh frame was sensational to say the least. The Warders scored two runs in their half of the inning and things looked like the game was almost over. But the Fighting Lutherans couldn't be denied and filled the paths with no one out. One run crossed the plate on a hit and another crossed the rubber on another single, and the score was tied.

Then Timmy Kline cracked a fly to Butler in center field and when a play was made at first base Roy Dumm scampers home and beat the throw to win the game. Plenty of hard hitting was recorded by both teams with the Brotherhood's six solid hits and long fly in the eleventh climaxing the scrap.

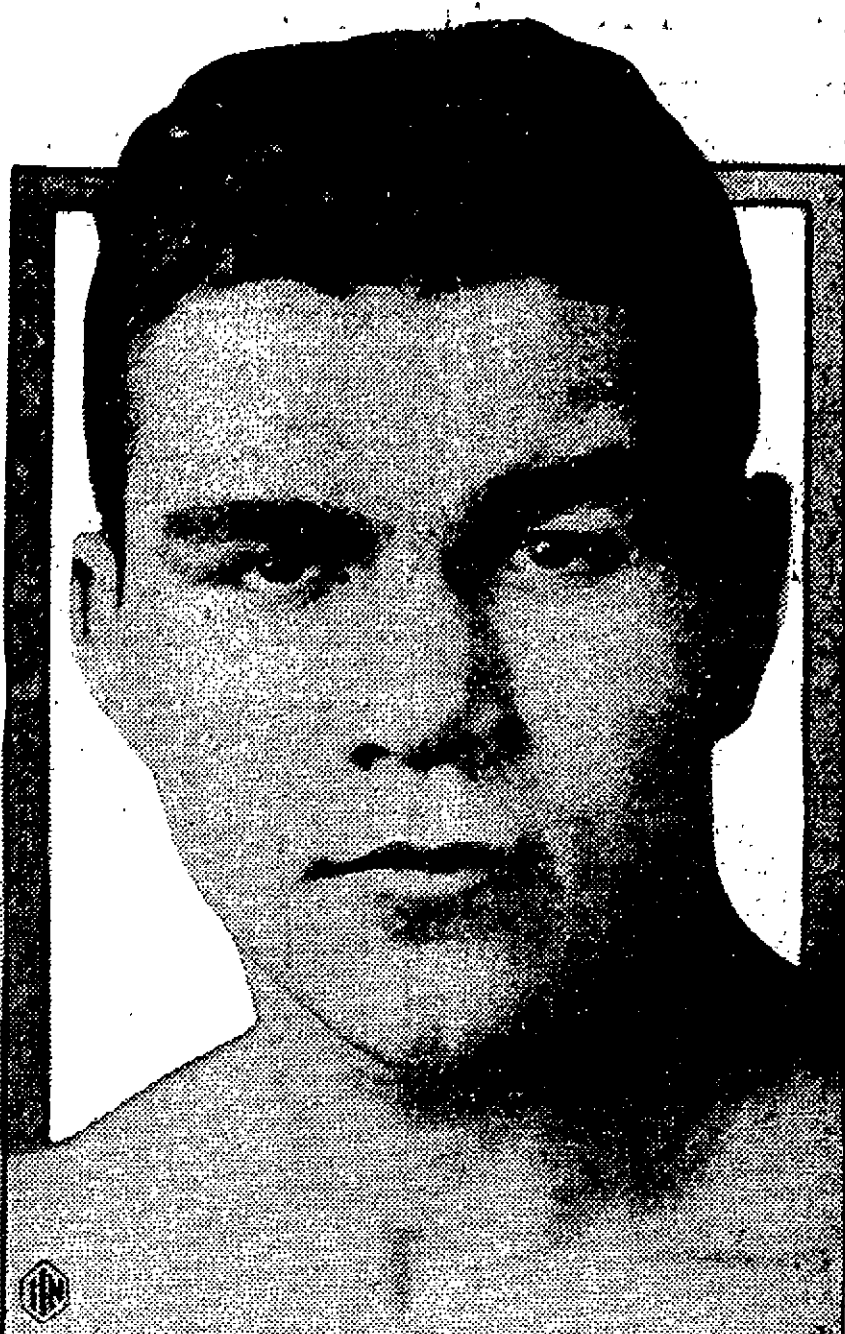

The Lutherans out-hit the Ward's by a count of 16 to 10 and really deserved to win the game. When hits meant runs those Dutch would trot to the plate, swing a chunk of hardwood at one of Jaggy Davis' pitches and zowie, a hit. That was at the tail-end of the game for in the first six innings Davis pitched good ball. Lack of enough work on the mound might be given for Davis' weakening in the late part of the ball game.

Roy Dumm hurried the whole game for the Brotherhood and his slow ball had the deputy's outfit popping into the air. Probably seven of the 10 hits garnered from his delivery were liners over the third basemen's and short-stop's head.

MAX SCHMELING

THREE TEAMS WITHIN GAME AND HALF IN AMERICAN LOOP

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, June 13.—The American League today seemed headed for a rousing fight to the finish.

The race that was seen as a gauntlet for the Athletics is quickly turning into an every-man-for-himself scrap between the World champions, Cleveland, Washington, Geib, lb. 6 0 0 1 and the climbing Yankees.

Cleveland yesterday whipped the Athletics, 2 to 0 to climb within one game of first place. The Indians turned the trick by getting three home runs, one of which scored two runs, while Brown was letting the leaders down with four hits.

The Senators, though they were trimmed by Chicago, 10 to 6, are but one-half game back of Cleveland. The White Sox slugged hard to present Red Lyons his ninth win of the year. Jolley, Bluege and Jefferies hit home runs.

Babe Ruth hit No. 20 as the Yanks blasted out twenty-two hits to smother Detroit, 14 to 2. Wait Hoyt, onetime Yankee, started for the Tigers, but lasted only a couple of innings.

Walter Stewart, St. Louis south-paw star, won his eighth of the season, as St. Louis turned back the Red Sox, 6 to 5.

Brooklyn forged further ahead in the National by taking another close one from the Reds, 3 to 2. Pinch-hitter Flowers double in the eighth scoring Finn and Bressler gave the Robins their winning margin.

COCA COLAS TAKE THEIR FIRST SCRAP IN SECOND ROUND OF LEAGUE CHASE

In a close, hard fought, and thrilling game at Mason's park last night, the Coca Colas won their first victory in this round by defeating the C. C. of A. by the narrow margin of 8 to 7, in a regulation nine inning contest.

At the very end of the game it was thought by spectators that the bottlers would blow up, as the Mid-western sent five men across the plate in this frame and up to this time had only scored two runs.

The old ball started rolling in the second inning when the bottlers just simply pounded clean hits into the outfield and the fielders were unable to take care of them. However there were also a number of errors. Thomas, fielder for the box makers, dropped three balls.

Through these few errors and a number of clean hits the pop aggregation sent five men across the plate during this inning, and in this way held a lead over their opponents throughout the game.

The Cokes came along in the third and again sent a man across the plate through a nice hit of Heeter's.

Then nothing else happened until the fifth inning when the paper makers scored their runs. Frank Lynch, hurler for the winners let loose of some wild pitches which Catcher Barr was unable to get hold of, and as a result Walter Brungs, who had obtained admission to first base was sent across the home plate, when Carl Thomas stepped to the plate and sent a hit whizzing in the outfield. Then several other hits followed, together with errors and Thomas crossed the sack just before the third out and the score was 6 to 2.

Again the bottlers followed in the seventh and scored two more runs, and made the score 8 to 2.

Then the so-called "climax" came in the ninth frame, the last "bumps" for the Mid-western. The paper boys started pounding the ball and the pop boys' outfield comprised of Jack Heeter, and especially Joe Barnes, began fumbling the ball or missing hits. And also in the infield Cuz Dumm and Gene Smith muffed a couple balls and as a result when the third out was made, the boxers had scored five runs, and almost won the game.

The Cokes had a different arrangement of their team. Bob Maloney, regular pitcher, was on number one sack due to illness of Turk Baucher, and Gene Smith was on second base, and he certainly had two beautiful hits, and he looks as though he will give the bottlers, one time league leaders, much more strength.

H. Wolfe, hurler for the losers pitched a fair game of ball, not allowing any free transportations, neither having any strikeouts, although Frank Lynch had one strike-out.

Abysinia's Possibilities

Abysinia has vast potential riches, probably in minerals, certainly in its amazingly fertile soil. Much of it is mountain and high plateau—Addis Ababa is about 8,000 feet above the sea—and it has a "white man's climate." LUTHERANS SOCK 6 BINGLES IN ELEVENTH INNING TO WIN FROM WARD'S TEAM, 7 TO 6

Six consecutive solid bingles and a long sacrifice fly in the last half of the eleventh inning won a game for the Lutheran Brotherhood from Doggy Ward's team at Utilities field Thursday evening. The score of the contest was 7-6 and the game was one of the most exciting played this season. Everything was nip and tuck from start to finish with the Wardmen falling to protect a four run lead which they had starting the seventh inning.

The eleventh frame was sensational to say the least. The Wards scored two runs in their half of the inning and things looked like the game was almost over. But those Fighting Lutherans couldn't be denied and filled the paths with no one out. One run crossed the plate on a hit and another crossed the rubber on another single, and the score was tied.

Then Timmy Kline cracked a fly to Butler in center field and when a play, was made at first base Roy Dumm scampered home and beat the throw to win the game.

Plenty of hard hitting was recorded by both teams with the Brotherhood's six solid hits and long fly in the eleventh climaxing the scrap.

The Lutherans outlived the Ward's by a count of 16 to 10 and really deserved to win the game. When hits meant runs those Dutch would trot to the plate, swing a chunk of hardwood at one of Jaggy Davis' pitches and zoie, a hit. That was at the tailend of the game for in the first six innings Davis pitched good ball. Lack of enough work on the mound might be given for Davis' weakening in the late part of the ball game.

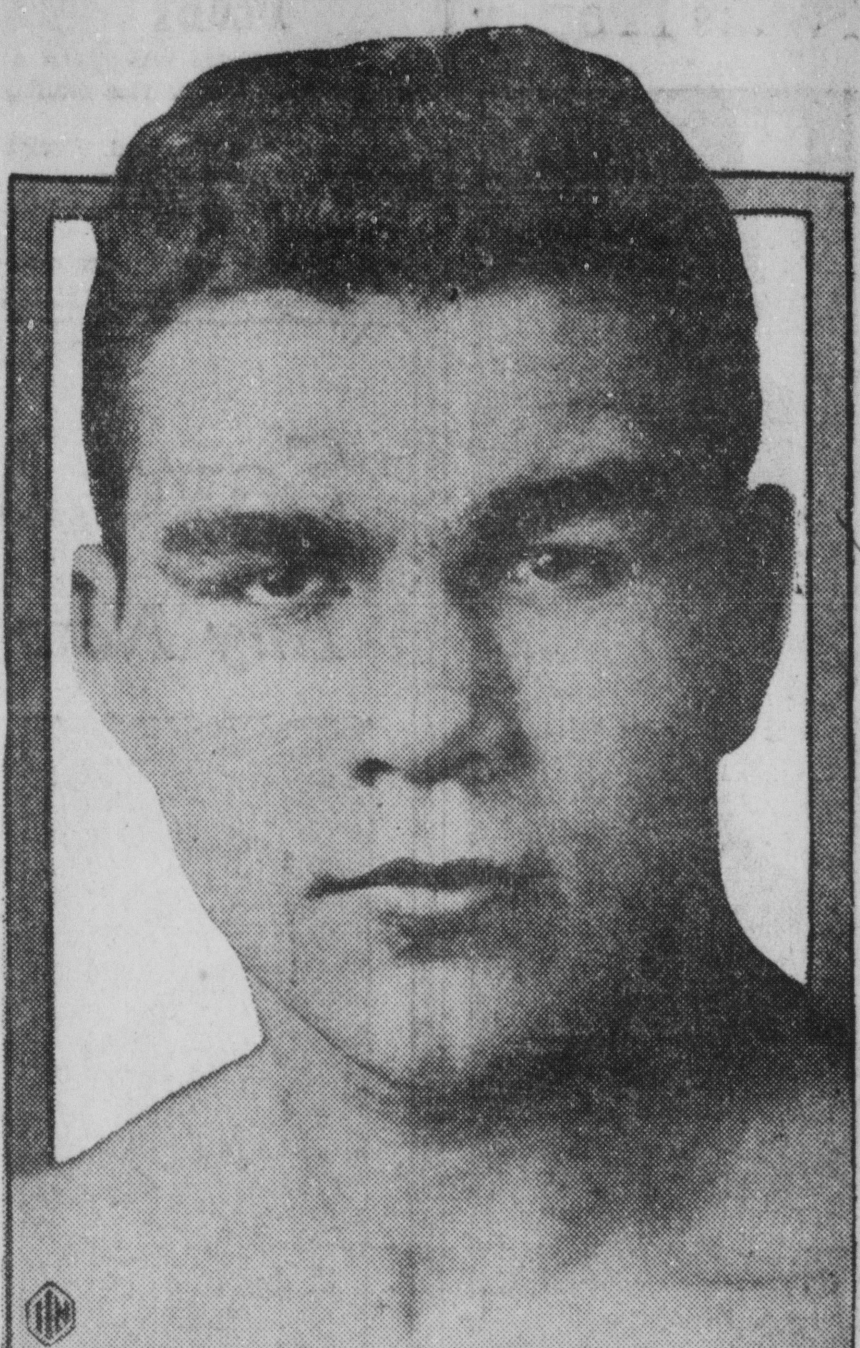

Roy Dumm hurled the whole game for the Brotherhood and his slow ball had the deputy's outfit popping into the air. Probably seven of the 10 hits garnered from his delivery were liners over the third basemen's and short-stop's head.

THREE TEAMS WITHIN GAME AND HALF IN AMERICAN LOOP

By HENRY McEMORE
NEW YORK, June 13 — The American League today seemed headed for a rousing fight to the finish.

The race that was seen as a gaup for the Athletics is quickly turning into an every-man-for-himself scrap between the World champions, Cleveland, Washington, and the climbing Yankees.

Cleveland yesterday whipped the Athletics 5 to 0 to climb within one game of first place. The Indians turned the trick by getting three home runs, one of which scored two runs, while Brown was letting the leaders down with four hits.

The Senators, though they were trimmed by Chicago, 10 to 6, are but one-half game back of Cleveland. The White Sox slugged hard to present red Lyons his ninth win of the year. Jolley, Bluege and Jefferies hit home runs.

Babe Ruth hit No. 20 as the Yanks blasted out twenty-two hits to smother Detroit, 14 to 2. Wait Hoyt, onetime Yankee, started for the Tigers, but lasted only a couple of innings.

Walter Stewart, St. Louis south-paw star, won his eighth of the season, as St. Louis turned back the Red Sox, 6 to 5.

Brooklyn forged further ahead in the National by taking another close one from the Reds, 3 to 2. Pinch-hitter Flowers double in the eighth scoring Finn and Bressler gave the Robbins their winning margin.

COCA COLAS TAKE THEIR FIRST SCRAP IN SECOND ROUND OF LEAGUE CHASE

In a close, hard fought and thrilling game at Mason's park last night, the Coca Colas won their first victory in this round by defeating the C. C. of A. by the narrow margin of 8 to 7, in a regulation nine inning contest.

At the very end of the game it was thought by spectators that the bottlers would blow up, as the Mid-westmen sent five men across the plate in this frame and up to this time had only scored two runs.

The old ball started rolling in the second inning when the bottlers just simply pounded clean hits into the outfield and the fielders were unable to take care of them. However there were also a number of errors. Thomas, felder for the box makers, dropped three balls.

Through these few errors and a number of clean hits the pop aggregation sent five men across the plate during this inning, and in this way held a lead over their opponents throughout the game.

The Cokes came along in the third and again sent a man across the plate through a nice hit of Heeter's.

Then nothing else happened until the fifth inning when the paper makers scored their runs. Frank Lynch, hurler for the winners let loose of some wild pitches which Catcher Barr was unable to get hold of, and as a result Walter Brungs, who had obtained admission to first base was sent across the home plate, when Carl Thomas stepped to the plate and sent a hit whizzing in the outfield. Then several other hits followed, together with errors and Thomas crossed the sack just before the third out and the score was 6 to 2.

Again the bottlers followed in the seventh and scored two more runs, and made the score 8 to 2.

Then the so-called "climax" came in the ninth frame, the last "bumps" for the Mid-westmen.

The paper boys started pounding the ball and the pop boys' outfield comprised of Jack Heeter, and especially Joe Barnes, began fumbling the ball or missing hits. And also in the infield Cuz Dumm and Gene Smith muffed a couple balls and as a result when the third out was made, the boxers had scored five runs, and almost won the game.

The Cokes had a different arrangement of their team. Bob Maloney, regular pitcher, was on number one sack due to illness of Turk Baucher, and Gene Smith was on second base, and he certainly had two beautiful hits, and he looks as though he will give the bottlers, one time league leaders, much more strength.

H. Wolfe, hurler for the losers pitched a fair game of ball, not allowing any free transportations, neither having any strikeouts, although Frank Lynch had one strike-out.

The first strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, announced the bride and bridegroom who descended the stairs together, and walked to the fireplace in the living room, where palms and ferns, and tall white baskets of blue and pink delphinium, and Spanish iris, made an altar of the white mantle.

Garden flowers, in baskets and bowls completed the decoration for this room where the ceremony was performed.

Local Talent Wins Praise In Annual Stella Becker Dance School Party

A number from Circleville turned out Thursday night to see the local talent sport itself at the Central high school building in Columbus, in the annual Stella Becker, dance Pantomime.

Talent from Circleville was represented by Jeanne Crowe, Marvene Wallace, and Betty Jean Clifton. Each of these girls, appeared in a solo number as well as group dances.

Jeanne Crowe was first to appear. Her's was a comedy dance, showing her fine ability and comic skill. She also appeared later as the leader in a modernistic mechanical ballet, which was a train, with cow catcher, engine, box cars and caboose, and the dance steps were the engine's steaming up and slowing down, with a real whistle off stage.

Another number in which Jeanne in her class of advanced pupils, was "La Cloche Porcelain", in which the class first represented the figures on the clock, and later executed the most intricate dance of the program.

Marvene Wallace, a pupil of Miss Becker for only three years had the solo number in the "Ruby Dance", and stood out perceptibly as the most earnest and graceful dancer in the number. Her brilliant red costume of sequins was becoming, and the scene was lovely. Her toe dancing has progressed rapidly, and has put her at a new level in this art.

In a novelty number, "The Clock," she danced as one of the hours. The finish of the act came when all of the dancers climbed upon the face of the huge clock, holding their numbers in hand. The lights went out suddenly, and the numbers were of phosphorous, making an illuminated dial on the clock.

A dance in wooden shoes was executed nimbly by Betty Jean Clifton as a soloist, representing Holland. The number was received with hearty applause from a pleased audience. Betty Jean was also an old fashioned love letter, in a group dance.

Virginia Hunsicker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Hunsicker of Columbus and formerly of Williamsport, was on the program, as was Betty Schory, granddaughter of Dick Curl of this city.

Among those who attended the revue in Columbus Thursday night were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clifton and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Imbler, Mrs. Karl Herrmann, Carolyn Herrman, Jean Cryder, Mr. and Mrs. Loring McAbee, Miss Katherine Millrons, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rinehart, Miss Abbe Clarke, Miss Helen Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Van Vliet, and Milton E. Friedman.

She also appeared later as the leader in a modernistic mechanical ballet, which was a train, with cow catcher, engine, box cars and caboose, and the dance steps were the engine's steaming up and slowing down, with a real whistle off stage.

Another number in which Jeanne in her class of advanced pupils, was "La Cloche Porcelain", in which the class first represented the figures on the clock, and later executed the most intricate dance of the program.

Marvene Wallace, a pupil of Miss Becker for only three years had the solo number in the "Ruby Dance", and stood out perceptibly as the most earnest and graceful dancer in the number. Her brilliant red costume of sequins was becoming, and the scene was lovely. Her toe dancing has progressed rapidly, and has put her at a new level in this art.

In a novelty number, "The Clock," she danced as one of the hours. The finish of the act came when all of the dancers climbed upon the face of the huge clock, holding their numbers in hand. The lights went out suddenly, and the numbers were of phosphorous, making an illuminated dial on the clock.

A dance in wooden shoes was executed nimbly by Betty Jean Clifton as a soloist, representing Holland. The number was received with hearty applause from a pleased audience. Betty Jean was also an old fashioned love letter, in a group dance.

Virginia Hunsicker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Hunsicker of Columbus and formerly of Williamsport, was on the program, as was Betty Schory, granddaughter of Dick Curl of this city.

Among those who attended the revue in Columbus Thursday night were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clifton and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Imbler, Mrs. Karl Herrmann, Carolyn Herrman, Jean Cryder, Mr. and Mrs. Loring McAbee, Miss Katherine Millions, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rinehart, Miss Abbe Clarke, Miss Helen Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Van Vliet, and Milton E. Friedman.

E. S. Neuding attended a meeting of the trustees of Otterbein College in Westerville Friday. He was accompanied by O. S. Howard.
